Proof of Delivery

Photos, signatures and barcodes can be collected in the field, making verification easy.

The screenshot shows the Falcon-i web application interface. The browser address bar displays "Your Site. (US) | https://logisticsoptimiser.falconitracking.com/". The user is logged in as "John".

The main content area features a table with the following data:

<input type="checkbox"/>	Name ↑	Address	Delivery interval	Unl...	Comment ...	Cost	Wei...	Vol...	Vehicle ty
<input type="checkbox"/>	1	ABC Order	Clifton Road, Karachi, Pa...	00:00 – 23:59	10 min	0	10 kg	4
<input type="checkbox"/>	2	XYZ Order	North Karachi, Karachi, P...	00:00 – 23:59	10 min	0	20 kg	10

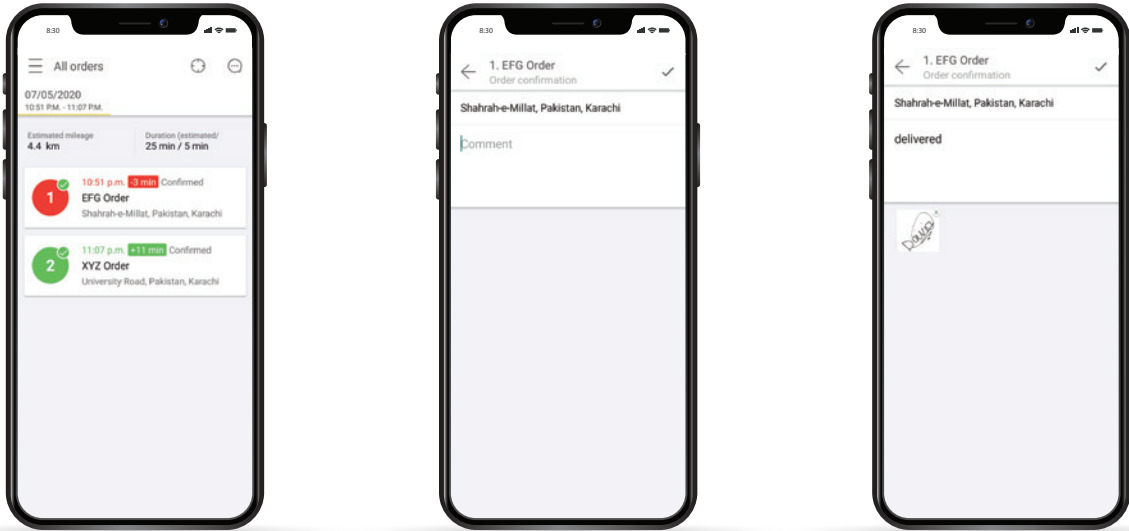

Below the table, there are three numbered buttons (1, 2, 3) and a "Please select orders" prompt. A "NEXT" button is also visible.

The bottom section of the interface includes a summary of orders and a map:

- Orders Summary:
 - Total weight: 0 kg
 - Total volume: 0
 - Total cost: 0
 - Total number of orders: 0

About Falcon-i

As the country's largest privately-owned fleet management company, we've always looked forward. Over the years we've grown, invested in technology and built one of the best teams in the industry. This has helped us build trust amongst 160,000 customers and has allowed us to put over 100 corporate enterprises in control, by providing insights on driver & fleet performance, vehicle usage and diagnostics.

We've always worked to make it easy for our customers to monitor & manage their vehicles, so they can stay focused on what matters to them the most. As a result, we've secured and monitored assets of over US$2Bn.
